BUS 1	1.00	MADE IN ITALY: FASHION
Anna Sasso			00:00 AM	00:00 AM	01/20/2025	05/07/2025

>
 Elegance, beauty, quality, innovation and style are in Italian fashion's DNA. Brilliantly expressed in the concept of La Bella Figura, a way of life emphasizing beauty, aesthetics and image, Italian culture is internationally renowned for its joy of life La Dolce Vita, attention to detail, quality and authenticity, a long history of excellence in art and design, as well as its legacy of distinction in craftsmanship. If something is Made in Italy, it's made with Italian passion, enthusiasm and attention to detail. It is a synonym for the timeless elegance, impeccable style and glamour. This field trip provides a hands-on opportunity to explore the contemporary Italian fashion industry, to identify what makes Italian fashion unique, as well as to explore Italy's position in the global fashion arena. Participants will be introduced to key concepts and ways of thinking about fashion and its context in Italian society and culture, and will learn how to establish a fashion brand identity and positioning. Practical insights into the entire fashion lifecycle, from forecasting trends, design, product development, pricing, communication and retailing will be explored.
 1 credit. Students will pay a fee to cover the cost of the field-trip.

ENG 102	3.00	PLAYFUL SUBVERSION: UNDERSTANDING POSTMODERN TEXT
Andrea Pacor		Tue Thu	10:35 AM	12:00 PM	01/20/2025	05/07/2025

 The aim of the course is to situate select theoretical and literary texts within the post-modern aesthetic, and to understand both postmodern theory and post-modern writing as commentary on, and reaction to, a world disenchanted of the myth of progress, suspicious of the legitimacy of authority, and filled with anxiety over the attribute of authenticity in identity, experience, and “things in the world.” Where modernist writers have reacted with nostalgia, however, postmodernists have seen opportunity for “playful subversion” of the fundamental categories of western thought. We will consider subversion of narrative, history, identity, and gender. Where subversion aims at a clear break with power, playfulness seeks to transform this radical uncertainty into a space for individual freedom. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ENG 102.

Lisa Colletta		Tue Thu	02:05 PM	03:30 PM	01/20/2025	05/07/2025

 Using examples from Juvenal to Jon Stewart, this course examines elements of comedic and satiric technique, style, and genre. It will investigate the psychological, social, and political functions of laughter and comedy, as well as satire’s most common targets and its various forms. Through practical exercises, literature, and screenings of TV, film, and stand-ups, students will explore what and why we find some things funny. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: ENG 202.

HST 7	3.00	HISTORY OF THE MODERN MIDDLE EAST	Mon Wed	09:00 AM	10:25 AM	01/20/2025	05/07/2025
Catherine Sophie Cornet

Both before but particularly after September 11th, 2001, The Middle East has played a vital role in influencing the world we live in. In order to better understand the complexity of this region where major wars have been waged, it is necessary to equip students with an in-depth understanding of the forces and influences that have historically shaped the region. This will be done by asking questions that analyze trends such as the growth of Nation States, of Arab Nationalism, the Arab-Israeli Conflict, the tension between Secularism and Religion, as well as the growth of Political Islam. The course will start with the encounters between East and West at the beginning of the 19th Century and the rise of Nation-States through to our times. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A lower-level History course and Junior or Senior standing.

International Affairs

IA 1	3.00	INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS: THEORIES AND CASES	Tue Thu	09:00 AM	10:25 AM	01/20/2025	05/07/2025
Luca Ratti

This course complements empirical knowledge acquired by students in the IA 100 course. It consists of in-depth study of main theories of international relations: realism, liberalism, Marxism, constructivism, feminism, and post-structuralism as well as using these theories to explain political concepts and look at specific cases in contemporary politics. Beyond application of theoretical frameworks to current affairs students will learn how to criticize existing theories and how political science concepts evolve and change due to changing international context. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: IA 100.

IA 2	3.00	INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS	Mon Wed	05:15 PM	06:40 PM	01/20/2025	05/07/2025
Andrea Thomas Dessi

This course explores the functioning of international organizations in today's world. It analyzes 1) the meaning, the origins and the actors of global governance and the reasons why it is increasingly needed; 2) the centerpiece of global governance: the United Nations; and 3) the evolution, the role, the purposes and the impact of regional and sub-regional organizations active in Europe, Africa, the Americas, Asia and in the Middle East. The course will also address a number of cross-cutting issues and challenges whose resolution require a global approach, and will, finally, discuss the role played by IOs in securing international peace and security. 3 credit hours. Pre-requisites: A lower-level Political Science course or permission of the instructor.

IA 3	3.00	ISLAM AND POLITICS	Mon Wed	03:40 PM	05:05 PM	01/20/2025	05/07/2025

In this course students establish an introductory base in the Italian language in the four areas of language skills: listening comprehension, speaking, reading, and writing. At the successful completion of this course students will be able to demonstrate proficiency in everyday spoken Italian by performing the following functions: greet people and introduce themselves, give and follow simple directions, respond to and ask questions, describe their families and friends, order items in a café, discuss their life at school and hobbies, express likes and dislikes, and recount recent past actions. Students will be able to read simple written texts in Italian and write short paragraphs on familiar topics. Students will also have gained specific knowledge about contemporary Italy through cultural readings on topics such as family life, pastimes, and food and wine culture. 4 credit hours. No placement examination. Required for AUR degree students.

Environmental Science is an interdisciplinary study that includes both applied and theoretical aspects of human impact on the world. In this course, an overview is given of the specific concerns of overpopulation, the energy crisis, and general results of the overstress on the environment, including pollution, poor agricultural practices, and the depletion of natural resources. An inquirybased laboratory component is designed to support students in constructing a meaningful, conceptual foundation of the environmental sciences. Activities and experim
